Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

October – November 2019

October and November have been busy, but very enjoyable months. We received visits from Stephanie's parents in October and her brother Nathaniel in November. Although we consider ourselves very privileged to be missionaries, there are still sacrifices that come with being missionaries. One of these is being apart from friends and loved ones. Modern communication makes it easier than in it was for missionaries in the past, but there is no substitute for face to face communication. It was refreshing to enjoy fellowship with them.

One day while my in-laws were here, we took them to see downtown. A young woman heard my wife and in-laws speaking in English, and she stopped to make a comment about our children. My wife and I were able to have a conversation with her and witness to her. She had Catholic background but now claimed to be a "Spiritist". Her honesty was refreshing. I'm still used to witnessing to Americans whose favorite phrase is "I'm good". When I asked her where she would go if she were to die right then, she dejectedly replied that she would probably go to hell. She started listing some of the sins in her life, such as enjoying partying, and gave other reasons why she would go to hell. I was able to tell her about the Lord, leave her with tracts, and invite her to church. Her name is Isabel.

While my brother-in-law Nathaniel was visiting us, Bro. Sherrouse, some men in the church, and I were able to street preach and evangelize in two different cities. One of the cities where we preached, about an hour away, is called Itajuba. There was a couple already sitting in the area when we started to preach. They listened the entire time we were there. When it was my turn to preach, the young man walked up to where we were and read all of scripture signs intently. Bro. Matt Sherrouse was able to lead both he and his wife to the Lord! He seemed to have a special interest in wanting to learn more after his salvation. We are praying about the possibility of starting a Bible study in that city.

Even though this is our second December here, it's still seems strange to be going into summer this month. Weather, culture, and language differences are all part of the adjustments being new missionaries on a foreign field. Thankfully, through all the changes and uncertainties in this life, the Lord never changes and is always faithful.

We are very grateful for all of the churches and individuals who faithfully pray for us and support our ministry. 2 Thessalonians 3:16 ...The Lord be with you all.

In Christ,
The Dare Family
